- WHAT: Fresno County Public Library celebrates Teen Read Week with the theme “Turn Dreams into Reality @ your Library!”
- WHEN: October 12-18, 2014
- WHERE: Online, <http://www.fresnolibrary.org> and <http://www.fresnoteens.org>
- DETAILS: Fresno County Public Library will celebrate Teen Read Week (October 12-18, 2014) by giving away prizes, in an effort to encourage teens to read for the fun of it. For each book review a teen submits to the Fresno County Public Library teen website, he or she will receive a free book. At the end of the week, all of the reviewers will be entered into a drawing for the grand prize, a Samsung Galaxy Tab 4 Nook. Multiple submissions are welcomed and encouraged to increase the chances of winning. Fresno County Public Library thanks all of the teen reviewers who have contributed to the website over the years and we encourage every teen within Fresno County to submit a review to be a part of this giveaway. “We are thrilled to see teens reading for enjoyment,” said Fresno County Librarian, Laurel Prysiazny. “Continuous reading results in better success at school and in future careers.” For more information, visit <http://www.fresnolibrary.org>.
