Fresno County Public Library Names New Community Relations Analyst

The Fresno County Public Library is pleased to announce the appointment of Txawjvaag Rocky Vang to the position of Community Relations Analyst. Rocky Vang, who has been with the Library since 2007, starts his new assignment immediately. He will be the new contact for media and press relations.

Vang has been employed by the County of Fresno since 2004. Prior to working for the Library, he worked for the Department of Social Services. In addition to his job, Vang remains active in the community, with his church and with his family. "I am a firm believer that the Library is a very important and much needed asset in our community. I look forward to the opportunity to share information about Library events, programs and services with all the residents of the Central Valley," states Vang.

Fresno County Public Library provides services to 36 different locations throughout the County of Fresno.
