Fresno County Public Library Names New Development Officer

The Fresno County Public Library is pleased to announce that Susan Renfro has been appointed as the Library's new Development Officer. Susan Renfro is a Fresno State Alumna with a B.A. in Sociology. She was also a member of the acclaimed American Humanics program which provides students with a unique set of curriculum that prepares them for a career in leadership and administration for community benefit organizations.

Since graduating from Fresno State, Renfro has worked on a variety of funding projects for organizations throughout California. From the international organization, The Salvation Army to her most recent grassroots project with Futures Without Violence in San Francisco, she has worked on teams that have raised substantial funds to support the needs of the community.

Renfro loves creating the opportunity for people to connect with causes that are close to their heart and help them invest in projects that create social change. Renfro is excited to return to Fresno where she says she can, "bring the skills and experience I have acquired back home to the Fresno County community."

"Hiring Susan who has the perfect set of skills and experience needed by the Library is a real plus, and it comes at a critical time with the capital campaign to build a new library in Clovis kicking into high gear," states County Librarian, Laurel Prysiazny. Ms. Renfro starts her new position on June 6, 2016.
